OUTLOOK IS ENCOURAGING

Yearling Sales at Saratoga Show Confidence in Future of Turf.

Better Quality of Material Offered Brings Spirited Bidding and Good Prices.

(By J. R. Jeffery.)

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—The happenings of the past few days have been encouraging to those who were inclined to be a bit anxious as to what might be in store for the turf under the trying conditions growing out of the great world war. Especially have they been encouraging to breeders of the thoroughbred horse. A week ago fears were expressed in some quarters that war conditions were likely to play havoc with the market for yearlings. When the sales that are an annual feature of the August race meeting here began, there appeared to be a listlessness and a lack of demand for the young stock sent in from the breeding establishments. This gave rise to the fears referred to. Comparatively small prices were realized for the youngsters offered during the first few days for which the sales were scheduled.

But in the light of subsequent developments, it seems likely that this condition prevailed because the yearlings offered did not particularly appeal to the fancies of prospective purchasers, rather than for any other reason. Upon the appearance in the salesring of stock that appeared to have outstanding merit, there was an instantaneous change in conditions. Wealthy patrons of the turf vied with each other for the possession of desirable individuals and the competition became so keen that the record price of the preceding season was left far behind.

In 1917 the highest price paid for a yearling at public auction in this country was $10,000. This price was first exceeded when Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords of Philadelphia, an enthusiastic supporter of eastern racing, paid $15,600 for the French-bred colt Switch, by Sweeper—Zuna, in the consignment of Mrs. H. B. Duryea, on Thursday evening. Switch is an especially taking colt in appearance. The following evening Commander J. K. L. Ross, who has one of the most formidable stables on the turf today, paid $14,500 for a striking colt of fashionable English breeding, by Black Jester—Primula, and other desirable stock, of American origin, also commanded fancy prices. It had been freely predicted that the Black Jester colt would bring a big price. In fact, almost every trainer who had seen this colt expressed a desire to get control of him and the wonder is that he did not bring the record price of the season. In buying him, Commander Ross let it be known that he was actuated quite as much by a desire to have the blood lines represented in his pedigree for use in the pretentious breeding stud which he is organizing for the production of his own racing stock in the years to come, as because of the colt's promising individuality. But everybody is a unit in agreeing that if such a thing can be foretold in advance, this colt will surely develop into a racing star of the first magnitude.

As a result of the confidence in the future of racing, which the paying of such prices for young stock exemplifies, there has been a distinct improvement in the general feeling of the racing folk gathered here from all sections of the country. There can be no denying that the war, with its far-reaching possibilities, has been casting its shadow over the sport and no better tonic could have been supplied than that growing out of the steadying confidence represented in the prices that desirable racing stock is commanding.

SARATOGA PATRONAGE GROWING DAILY.

The past few days have also been marked by growing patronage of the racing, until now it would appear that the figures are not far behind the wonderful showing made by the sport here last year, when the Saratoga Association conducted by far the most successful meeting in all its history. Present indications are that the present meeting will not be far behind the record-breaker of 1917. On Saturday, particularly, the facilities of the association for taking care of a large crowd were pretty well tested.

W. F. Polson was finally influenced to accept the tempting offer which he had received for Billy Kelly because of the widespread movement to exclude geldings from the important races of 1919, following the lead of Manager John Hachmeister of the Latonia Jockey Club in announcing such an innovation in connection with the running of the Latonia Derby next year, coincident with the announcement that the value of this important western three-year-old classic would be increased to $20,000 added. The Westchester Racing Association, the Pimlico Jockey Club and the New Louisville Jockey Club have given an impetus to the movement by announcements that geldings would be excluded from certain of their important races in future. There is not the slightest doubt but that Billy Kelly would have commanded more than $27,500 received for him by Mr. Polson but for the fact that the movement against geldings has assumed such formidable proportions, with the likelihood that it will be further extended in the interest of blooded horse breeding in the United States. And there is not the slightest doubt that the breeders and owners of young horses from this time on will hesitate a long time before applying the surgeon's knife so freely as has been the custom in the past.

Roamer and Cudgel were both withdrawn from the Champlain Handicap on Saturday because their trainers believed that neither would have done justice to themselves in the soft going that prevailed. When the entries were made for the race, it appeared as if the track would be in good condition for the racing of Saturday, but cloudy skies and damp atmospheric conditions intervened to upset calculations.

BIG CROWD SEES CHEYENNE RACING

Cheyenne, Wyo., August 12.—A big crowd turned out Saturday to pay their respects to the return of King Horse to Frontier Park. The stand was filled to its capacity. In the throng were the leading people of this community. The United States army was ably represented by Colonel Short, the commanding officer of Fort Russel, accompanied by members of his staff and the leading state officials occupied boxes.

The racing was splendid, although the long shots made a gala day of it and the talent was hard hit. The feature race, the Opening Handicap, was won by J. G. Bussey's Felicidad, which he shipped from Kentucky. It was a well-contested race and the winner received much applause. All the other races were sharply contested.

WINGFIELD'S PROMISING YEARLINGS

Seventeen Are by English Stallion Honeywood, Son of the Famous Racer and Sire, Polymelus.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—Early Wright, who has been racing a small stable of horses on the New York tracks this year for George W. Wingfield, Nevada mining magnate, is planning to return to the ranch of his employer in Nevada at the close of the Saratoga meeting to devote his attention to the breaking and education of the big band of yearlings from which the juvenile division of the Wingfield stable will be recruited for next year's racing. Preparatory to making the return trip to the coast, trainer Wright is making an effort to dispose of as many of the horses he brought east as possible. He has already sold the useful racer Slippery Elm to John W. Considine and the horse has been taken over by R. A. Smith to be trained for his new owner.

Wright says that the Wingfield yearlings are a highly promising band, far better than any previously bred by the Nevada capitalist. When Mr. Wingfield established his thoroughbred nursery in Nevada some years ago, it was with some rather ordinary mares, picked up here and there in the western country, as the nucleus. He has gradually been weeding out the poorer breeding stock and replacing it with high-class broodmares, including many choice specimens of English origin, imported from across the Atlantic within the past two or three years. The result is that today the Wingfield establishment is equipped to produce thoroughbreds of the highest type.

The Wingfield yearlings number some twenty-five, of which seventeen are by the English stallion Honeywood, a son of the noted Polymelus, whose blood is so highly prized. This is the first crop of the Honeywoods, and experts on breeding look for them to make good at racing. They are described by trainer Wright as exceptionally good looking youngsters and he will be keenly disappointed if they fail to live up to his expectations of them, in view of their appearance as yearlings. Besides the Honeywood yearlings, there are six by Deutschland, and two English-bred colts that came over as sucklings when their dams were imported by Mr. Wingfield last year.

Trainer Wright expects to invade the east next spring with a stable which will be able to hold its own with the important eastern establishments in the juvenile events. Engagements will be made on a liberal scale for the coming two-year-olds of the Wingfield establishment in all of the important juvenile events of the season.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF

Jockey Lunsford rode his first winner at Saratoga yesterday when he scored with Irene in the closing race.

H. P. Whitney's star three-year-old, Johren, is being pointed for the Travers Stakes of $10,000, the big three-year-old feature to be decided next Saturday. Sun Briar, War Cloud, Motor Cop and other crack racers are also eligible to the Travers.

At Saratoga Saturday, between races and over a heavy track, the following work-outs took place: Johren, mile and one-quarter in 2:11⅘; June Bug, Five-eighths in 1:05⅘; Eternal, three-eighths in 36⅘; Colonel Livingston, three-quarters in 1:19; Katie Canal, three-quarters in 1:19; Nigel, three-quarters in 1:19; Startling three-quarters in 1:19; Blazeaway, three-quarters in 1:19; St. Bernard, three-quarters in 1:19; Counterblast three-quarters in 1:19; Bayard, half mile in 51; Whisk By, half mile in 51.

EYELID QUEEN OF THREE-YEAR-OLDS

Her Easy Victory Over Enfilade in the Alabama Stakes Indicates Her Superiority.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—When Eyelid beat Enfilade in the Alabama Stakes on Thursday she did it in such convincing fashion that the general opinon was that the result would have been the same had the two met at even weights instead of the seven-pound advantage that the winner was enjoying. Therefore there is a disposition to concede the three-year-old filly honors of the year to Eyelid, which races in the colors of A. L. Aste, her breeder.

Eyelid's victory in the Alabama was all the more meritorious because of the fact that she got away last, almost ten lengths in the rear. Ensor, who rode the Aste filly, used good judgment. He didn't rush her after the leaders. Instead he took a snug hold on the reins and allowed her to race along in a fast but even pace.

Going around the first turn Enfilade, the pacemaker, was a dozen lengths in front of Eyelid, but this didn't rattle the little jockey. He was content to make up the lost ground gradually, and in the race down the long backstretch he succeeded.

Just before the bend was reached Ensor had Eyelid on the heels of the leaders and next to the rail. The jockey was awaiting an opening. But it didn't seem as though he would get it. To run around the horses was another big handicap that he might not be able to overcome. Ensor realized this and patiently waited in behind the leaders. As the bend was reached Lyke guided Enfilade a trifle wide. As he did so Ensor gave his mount free rein and before Lyke could realize it Eyelid had come through the opening and was at his mount's side. That move earned Ensor much applause. Fox a sixteenth of a mile Lyke did his mightiest to take the rail again, but Ensor kept Eyelid moving along stride for stride with Enfilade. Then Enfilade tired and as she did so Eyelid moved to the front and entered the home stretch three lengths ahead of her opponents. Down the final straightaway Eyelid sped at a terrific pace, and despite Ensor's efforts to pull her up in the final eighth she rushed to an easy victory.

FEW CHANCES FOR MUD RUNNERS

Art of Building and Taking Care of Modern Tracks Have Revolutionized Conditions.

(By J. R. Jeffery.)

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—The mud runners enjoyed one of their rather infrequent opportunities to show their ability here Friday and Saturday. They have not had many such opportunities in the east this year. One reason why horses partial to soft going get fewer chances nowadays than formerly, is that the art of building and taking care of the modern race track has advanced to such a fine point that even with the normal amount of rainfall, the duration of muddy track conditions has been greatly reduced. The installation of modern drainage methods saves the up-to-date track from the soaking which its subsoil would get under natural conditions and this, coupled with progressive methods of working the top soil of the track which have developed with the general demand for a safe and quick drying course, has revolutionized conditions and robbed horses of pronounced mud-running ability of many an opportunity to win purses.

The track that remains wet for more than a few hours after the cessation of a driving rain, is now the exception in the eastern section of the United States and the local course, brought to a high state of perfection under the master hand of its new superintendent, Billy Myer, is a shining example of the efficacy of modern methods in this particular respect. It will dry even more quickly when well settled. Other tracks in this section that dry out with particular rapidity include Belmont Park, Aqueduct and Empire City. The Laurel track will show marked improvement in this respect the coming fall, as the result of the recent installation of a modern drainage system. Douglas Park and Latonia are conspicuous examples of western tracks that have been brought to the same state of efficiency.

JUDGE SHELLEY TO PRESIDE AT LAUREL

Will Be in Stand at Lexington and Churchill Downs and Then Go to Maryland.

Lexington, Ky., August 12.—Judge William H. Shelley will be the presiding official in the stand during the twenty-seven days of the meeting at Laurel, Md., which is to open October 1. This announcement was made by Colonel Matt J. Winn, general manager of the Laurel track, upon his arrival from the east and was supplemented by a confirmatory statement from Judge Shelley, who came over from his home at Louisville for a conference with Colonel Winn.

"I will serve at the Lexington and Churchill Downs meetings and after Churchill Downs I will go to Laurel," said Judge Shelley. "I have advised General Manager John Hachmeister of the Douglas Park and Latonia Jockey Clubs, to that effect and the same time I expressed to him regret at my inability to continue in Kentucky to the end of the season."

NO ENTRANCE FEE TO LEXINGTON RACES

Lexington, Ky., August 12.—The executive committee of the Kentucky Association instructed Judge William Shelley to begin at once the preparation of the program book for the fall race meetings and it was voted that no entrance fee will be charged.

J. O. Whitlow bought the yearling colt by Handsel—Lady Knighthood (dam of Dr. Carmen) from T. B. Jones of Winchester.

Dr. Harry A. Woodcoffe, formerly of Lexington, has been appointed to the chair of veterinary science in the University of Arkansas.

STABLE NIGHT WATCHMAN IS KILLED

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—A. C. Mann, a night watchman employed at the stable of ex-Congressman Geo. W. Loft, was muderously assaulted with an axe sometime during the night for the purpose of robbery, and died this morning at 7 o'clock at the Saratoga Hospital without having regained consciousness. A negro stable hand, who was at the stable last night, is missing and the police are working on the theory that he committed the crime.

BELMONT YEARLINGS GO TO SARATOGA

Lexington, Ky., August 12.—Twenty-three yearlings, belonging to Major August Belmont, are on their way to Saratoga. They were shipped from the Nursery Stud in charge of William Brennon and Charles Cook. The thoroughbreds to be sold for the account of Frederick Johnson have reached Saratoga, they having been shipped from Beaumont Farm Friday.

SARATOGA FAVORITES FAIL

Sweep Up II. An Easy Victor in the Seneca Selling Stakes.

Koh-i-Noor Comes to the Rescue of First Choice Backers—Hollister Defeats Corn Tassel.

(By J. L. Dempsey.)

Saratoga, N. Y., August 12.—The Seneca Stakes, under selling conditions, with a guaranteed value of $2,500, of which amount $1,950 net went to the winner, was the outstanding race, from a monetary point, featuring this afternoon's card and resulted in a big upset in the victory of Sweep Up II., recently acquired by J. R. Skinker, for a sum said to be $1,500. He won his purchase price and some over for his new owner, Jyntee, an overwhelming favorite, following him to the finish, with Blue Paradise in third place. The winner took most kindly to the fast drying, but soft, track and coupled with a fast beginning, raced into a long lead at once and led for the entire distance of three-quarters to win easing up. Jyntee was ridden by the diminutive and inexperienced J. Bell. That youngster could not do the filly justice and she continuously sprawled and swerved during the stretch racing, though she finished gamely and overhauled Blue Paradise in the last eighth.

Backers of favorites experienced a rough time during the afternoon and their calculations went all awry. Not a single choice, excepting Koh-i-Noor, succeeding in landing a purse. Koh-i-Noor's margin of victory was a small one and it was only in the last few strides that she succeeded in wearing Kama down, which had in the earlier running threatened to make a runaway with the purse, but found the distance a trifle further than he likes to travel at top speed. Boxer ran a good race to land in third place.

While the stake race absorbed the most interest, still the mile race, which followed it, was given much consideration on account of the fairly good class ones that started. R. T. Wilson's Corn Tassel was backed with confidence in it and he was apparently the best in the race, but a mishap at the start resulted in his defeat by Hollister by a close margin. It was the first victory that the Macomber stable had scored at the present meeting and it was a lucky one. Hollister was always in the forward flight, close in attendance on Tumbler, Highland Lad and Lucky B., with Corn Tassel last, having been caught in a jam at the start and relegated to the rear. Hollister took the lead when three-eighths out and, after rounding into the stretch, appeared the easist kind of a winner, but Corn Tassel loomed up suddenly and, coming from far back with a cyclonic rush, forced Hollister to a hard drive to win by a neck. Lucky B. ran a good race and, with a good rider, would have been troublesome.

FAULTY RIDE BEATS VIVA AMERICA.

Thurber's faulty riding was also in a measure responsible of Viva America, the favorite in the closing dash. She was taken all over the track and, in addition, suffered from unnecessary interference. The winner turned up in Irene, on which Lunsford had the mount, and it marked the first winner that this crack rider has piloted during the meeting. His effort on Irene gave the easterners their first true line on his ability and he came in for much praise for his good riding of the filly.

In the claiming race for two-year-olds at five and a half furlongs, St. Quentin turned up as the winner and his success was in a good measure aided by the fast sendoff he had, which enabled him to go into a long lead at once and he won without any great effort from Plurenzi, with Melancholia following. The winner was entered for $700 and was claimed for $1,325 by W. C. Weant. The French colt Triomphant was another that changed ownership via the claiming route, for S. Louis took the Hildreth representative after the finish for $1,355.

Today's attendance was again of generous proportion, but betting action was somewhat slow. The changed track condition probably causing hesitancy on the part of heavy speculators. With no more rain, the track will be lightning fast for tomorrow's racing.

Acting for Commander J. K. L. Ross, trainer H. G. Bedwell today disposed of the contract on jockey Lyke's services to the Brighton Stable. The rider's contract did not expire until September 10, but the jockey's recent behavior, anything but exemplary, decided the trainer to dispense with his services. The price paid for Lyke's release to the Brighton Stable by trainer Bedwell is said to be $2,000. Lyke's engagement with the Brighton Stable runs to January 1, 1919.

Pat Dunne, well-known owner and trainer, was among the arrivals this morning and will remain for the rest of the meeting. Mr. Dunne is in quest of some horses that he intends to campaign in Kentucky next fall and at the winter tracks later.

James T. Looney and James P. Ross, superintendent of the Kentucky Association track in Lexington, were among the newcomers. Mr. Ross stated that there was an abundance of racers at the Lexington track awaiting the opening of the fall racing and that the prospects for successful meetings at all the Kentucky tracks this fall was roseate.

The news that forty days' racing had been allotted to the four Kentucky courses for fall racing was hailed with great joy by all the owners and those taking an interest in racing affairs.

Many owners, fearing that the Kentucky season would be considerably curtailed, had planned an invasion of the Maryland tracks or an extended stay in New York, but the Racing Commission's unexpected action in granting forty days and the increased purse offerings at all the tracks there will cause a speedy change in plans, which will result in those formerly having engaged in Kentucky racing returning to that point and there will also be a number of additions to the ranks from eastern sources.

The rapidly drying track was taken advantage of by trainers and many horses were worked between races, including Sun Briar, Exterminator, The Porter and Kathleen.

Chas. F. Grainger is continuing to show steady improvement and will remain here for some time.

Owner John Sanford, trainers W. J. Young and Preston Burch, and Dr. McCully, paid a visit to Mr. Sanford's Hurricana Farm near Amsterdam yesterday and looked over the thirty-one yearlings that are to be put into training at once with a view to their racing next year. The band comprises some highly regarded prospects and relationship to some of the best blood line families in England, France and America. Mr. Sanford has not reached a decision yet where he will winter most of his horses this year, but they will probably be sent back to Charleston in case he does not decide on Douglas Park, Louisville, Ky.

Patrol and Paddock Judge J. L. Hall has sufficiently recovered to resume his duties.

Galen Brown, the well-known trainer, was an arrival this morning from Chicago.

G. H. Keene returned this afternoon to Lexington, Ky., where he goes to begin training the Keene Bros.' horses for their fall campaign.

The stewards of the Jockey Club will receive at their next meeting a big petition from breeders and owners requesting a rescinding of the rule barring two-year-olds from starting before the first of May. Strong stress will be made on the fact that during the present sales many of the youngsters were sold for the proverbial song, while an altogether too large a number were passed out without eliciting a bid. These conditions would not have prevailed if an owner could have raced the youngsters on winter tracks.

THIRTY LEADING AMERICAN JOCKEYS

Leading rider Lawrence Lyke has got himself into difficulty with his stable and, as one of the consequences, cut no figure in last week's racing. Most probably he is suffering from a case of swelled head, a besetment that now and then sadly impairs the usefulness of successful young riders. Aside from this, the principal feature of the week was that Frank Robinson rode five winners and in doing so, passed over the line of his first hundred of winning mounts. Sande rode three and is now so close to Lyke that he may presently become the leader himself, if Lyke's slump continues. L. Ensor was the star of the week with seven victories and is doing right well. The records of our thirty most successful riders at the end of last Saturday's racing were:

SOLDIER WRITES ABOUT THE HORSE

Harry Epstein of St. Louis, Mo., now serving with the Fifteenth Cavalry in France, writing home to his parents, calls attention to the important part the horse is playing in the great war. He writes:

"To change abruptly from economics to another side of the war, I wonder if people in the United States know that the horse is a most important factor in winning the war?

"Do they know a horse can go to boggy, muddy fields where a truck cannot pass? Do they know that England has 2,500,000 horses and mules in the war? Do they know every horse in France, if only of average quality, can be priced at $400? Do they know that a good veterinarian is of much more value than an active participant (by active participant I refer to one who is in the trenches)?"
